Musée du Désert

Museum

In the heart of a typical hamlet in the Cevennes, the alleyways lead to the birthplace and house of Camisard leader, Roland. Through artifacts and authentic documents, the DESERT MUSEUM brings to life the Huguenot past and the history of the Camisards.

Why the Desert ?

In the history of French Protestantism, the expression Desert defines the period of time between the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes (1685) and the French Revolution (1789).

Deprived of freedom of worship, far from the cities, hidden in isolated areas, deserts (in the wilderness, forests, caves, or gullies...), where the Protestants in France (in the Cevennes, but also in Haut-Languedoc, in Poitou, Dauphiné, Vivarais...) were obligated to live out their faith in hiding.

The Assembly of the Desert

This is a large gathering Protestant organized every year on the first Sunday in September on the grounds of the Museum of the Desert.

The first meeting took place September 24, 1911, at the inauguration of the Museum with its founding. Since then, every year except for a few years of war, takes place the meeting of the Desert, involving 15,000 to 20,000 people in an atmosphere that is both recovered and happily family.

Temple d'Anduze : visite libre ou guidée

Site

The Anduze Temple is one of the largest in France, built between 1820 and 1823 on the site of the barracks yard.

The nave houses the benches arranged in a semicircle. The organ, installed in 1848, suffered from the devastating floods of 1958. It was restored in 1964 and rebuilt in 1992 by the Friends of the organ. Concerts of sacred and secular music are offered each year in this beautiful setting, excellent acoustics.

It was classified a historical monument June 18, 1979.

It is the place of worship of the Protestant Reformed Evangelical community.
